(*) Monochrome Definition (F.I.A.P. Regulation)

A black and white work fitting from the very dark grey (black) to the very clear grey (white) is a monochrome work with the various shades of grey. A black and white work toned entirely in a single colour will remain a monochrome work able to stand in the black and white category; such a work can be reproduced in black and white in the catalogue of a salon under FIAP Patronage. On the other hand, a black and white work modified by a partial toning or by the addition of one colour becomes a colour work (polychrome) to stand in the colour category; such a work requires colour reproduction in the catalogue of a salon under FIAP Patronage.

() Definition of Portrait Photography

Photographs that include part or all of the human FACE, of one or more people. It is a genre where a whole series of artistic initiatives come together that revolve around the idea of showing the physical or moral qualities of the person or persons that appear in the photographic images. The portrait can have the character facing the camera frontally, it can have the body tilted and look towards the edges of the image.

(*) F.I.A.P definition of Nature Photography

Nature photography depicts living, untrained animals and uncultivated plants in their natural environment, geology, and the great diversity of natural phenomena, ranging from insects to icebergs. Photos of pets, kept in a cage or subjected to any form of restriction, as well as photos of cultivated plants, are inadmissible. A minimal intervention of man is accepted for nature themes, such as farm owls or storks, they adapt to an environment modified by the action of man, or natural forms, such as hurricanes or violent currents, claim it. The original photo must be taken by the photographer, regardless of the photographic process. Any manipulation or modification of the original image must be limited to minor imperfection retouching and cannot in any case modify the content of the original scene. After these conditions have been met, every effort will be made to ensure that all nature photos are of the highest artistic standard.

() Still Life with Artichoke

Still life photography is a genre of photography in which inanimate subjects are depicted, usually a small group of objects. In this section it is essential that one or more artichokes appear.
